

Submission guidelines for You're Write e-zine for teens

You're Write is a zine hosted on the Teen Central section of the Knox County Public Library's website. Anyone from the age of 13 to the age of 17 is welcome to submit work to the zine via the online submission form.

We will select and post work that has been shared with us on a quarterly basis, with new pieces going up in January, April, July, and October. We will let you know if your work has been selected within a month of your submission date.

You may submit original works of short fiction (200-2000 words) and poetry as well as personal essays and creative nonfiction (200-2000 words). Please do not submit fan fiction, jokes, or material intended to market other works. All work must be your original, unpublished work.

Submissions should be suitable for a teenage audience and should include no profanity.

Please proofread and edit your material to the best of your ability. We will not edit your work.

Submit your work here only if you wish to share it freely. There is no compensation.

We look forward to reading your work.
